

A Level Geography

Students planning to study Geography at A-Level should follow the link below to the RGS Geography Today site and explore the resources on offer:

<http://www.rgs.org/GeographyToday/Geography+Today.htm>

As a minimum expectation students should complete the following task.

Access the What is geography? Section:

<http://www.rgs.org/GeographyToday/What+is+geography.htm>

Explore the Further Information section and be prepared in the first lesson to talk knowledgeably through two of the links in the context of how their content / themes / language / focus is a progression from GCSE.

Students should be able to support their points with specific examples taken from the website
